Quality and Purpose of Care 1.

1. A statement of the range of needs of the young people for whom it is intended that the young person's home is to provide care and accommodation.

A statement of the range of needs of the young people for whom it is intended that the young person's home is to provide care and accommodation. Appletree Bungalow offers an integrated residential education and care package, to boys and girls aged between 8 and 19 years with Severe Learning Difficulties and behaviours that challenge, on a 38 to 52 week per year basis. Residential provision can be offered for up to 2 young people.

The Meaningful Life Model joins Kisimul colleagues with the individuals we support and their families to agree and describe what a meaningful life could look like for them. Provision is then collectively designed to ensure progression towards a meaningful and fulfilling future.

Co-producing a shared vision of a meaningful life provides a clear destination to work towards. This is in contrast to different professionals working on separate goals. A focus on shared goals across all contexts of the person's life encourages maintenance and generalisation of skills. Regular holistic person-centred assessments and reviews will sit at the heart of The Meaningful Life Model.

Core to The Meaningful Life Model is that the individuals we support have a therapeutic lived experience. This means interactions and the environment are therapeutic in nature. A key part of our new model is supporting individuals through the use of relational approaches to experience emotional regulation through attuned interactions with the adults supporting them.

2. Details of the young person's homes ethos, the outcomes that the young person's home seeks to achieve and its approach to achieving them.

Our general aims are:

- The young people will be able to develop in an environment which is conducive to learning both in the academic and life skill sense. This environment is safe, caring, enjoyable and one in which the young people can grow towards independence and reach their full potential with a meaningful life. We aim to help young people to increase their emotional competence so that they can learn to overcome any difficulties that may be related to their condition and how they relate to the social world. This will help them to increase their abilities in relationship building by accessing services in the community as well as helping them to achieve academically.
- Our primary aim is to improve the social and leaning outcomes of the young people that we look after. We look after young people whose previous life experience, of severe learning difficulties and associated behaviours that challenge, has meant that they have not coped in education and/or at home.
- To operate in an environment where the views of the young people we look after are central to the care planning process. Views of the young people will be ascertained in a number of different ways and will be formally recorded within the person-centered care planning process. We work very closely and consult with families, significant others and multi-agency professionals to ensure that the most appropriate plans are in place. We always aim for the voice of the young person to be central to all that we do.

- 3. A description of the accommodation offered by the young person's home including:
- (a) How accommodation has been adapted to the needs of young people;
- (b) The age range, number and sex of the young people for whom it is intended that accommodation be provided;
- (c) The type of accommodation, including sleep in accommodation.

Appletree Bungalow offers placements to 2 young people aged between 8 and 19 years with Severe Learning Difficulties and behaviour of concern. The home provides sleeping accommodation in the form of single bedrooms with en-suites.

All young people will be offered a room in a home that is suitable to meet their needs. Some young people may refuse / prefer not to have curtains and/or blinds; therefore, some bedrooms may have frosted windows to help ensure their dignity is maintained at all times.

Appletree Bungalow has a Fire Risk Assessment which is reviewed annually and whenever significant changes arise which might materially impact the assessment e.g. when alterations are made to the buildings, or when the nature or number of people occupying the building change. A regular programme of fire drills is undertaken and recorded as well as weekly checks on all fire extinguishers, fire doors/sensors, fire blankets, call points and smoke detectors. All staff receive regular training in Fire precautions and Fire procedures. Young people are informed of the fire procedure and receive appropriate education on fire precautions, both as part of the curriculum and in their life skills programme.

4. A description of the location of the home.

The home is located in the quiet village of Swinderby, Lincolnshire located on a four-acre site close to a bus route and village of amenities, in addition there is a train station a mile away from the village. Appletree Bungalow is situated in a beautiful open environment with outstanding views of the Lincolnshire countryside and is 10 miles from Lincoln city centre. All the amenities that this provides including excellent transport links, leisure centres, cinema, wall climbing, sailing and shopping.

5. The arrangements for supporting the cultural, linguistic and religious needs of young people.

A key part of the assessment procedure is the determination of each young person's religious, ethnic, cultural and/or dietary background and requirements. This is carried out in consultation with parents so that important family traditions can be supported and maintained. Appletree Bungalow accepts young people from a range of religious and cultural traditions and has established contacts with a variety of religious and cultural organisation's which are called upon as required, to provide advice and involvement with individual young people. Practice conforms to the policy on Equal Opportunities. Appletree Bungalow celebrates the diversity of cultures and religious traditions represented in its own community and elsewhere. The background and knowledge of all members of Appletree Bungalow community help to enrich the experience and provide additional learning opportunities for young people and staff alike.

We recognise that our young people have a variety of ways in which they communicate and this includes specialist styles of communication which are helpful for young people with autism. We use tools such as social stories, picture symbols, rebus symbols, Makaton, visual timetables and iPads to help young people communicate and to ease disruption around transitions.

Details of who to contact if a person has a complaint about the home and how that person can access the home's complaints policy.

Young people, relatives and referring agencies are encouraged to discuss any areas of concern at the earliest opportunity with a member of staff, who will do their best to resolve the matter or seek the assistance of a senior colleague if they are unable to help. If efforts at this level prove unsuccessful, or if the person making the complaint feels unable or unwilling to make an informal approach, reference can be made direct to the manager, who is responsible for the local operation of the Complaints procedure. If the manager is unable to resolve the matter, or in the event of a serious complaint concerning the manager, the matter may be referred to:

Adam Henderson Responsible Individual at Kisimul School (telephone number 01522 868279). If the complaint cannot be resolved by discussion within the company's procedures, or if the complainant does not wish to pursue this route, they have recourse to the complaint's procedure operated by the referring authority (details of which they should have received from the officer responsible for the referral), or to the Lincolnshire County Council's Children's Customer Service Centre on 01522782111 or to the Local Authority Designated Officer on 01522 554674.

Complaints about registered services, such as Appletree Bungalow, can also be made to OFSTED:

OFSTED National Business Unit, Royal, Piccadilly Gate, Store Street, Manchester, M1 2WD or by telephone on 0300 123 1231.

7. Kisimul child protection policy and behaviour management policy is available to staff, interested parties and members of the public on our Website.

The Website address is www.kisimul.co.uk. Additionally, the manager retains a paper copy at the home.

It is the policy of Kisimul Group to ensure that a safe and caring environment is provided at all times for the young people entrusted to its care, and to protect them from significant harm (Part 2 section 10 of the Children's Act 2004). The group is committed to ensuring that all young people attending services are kept safe and that concerns about a young person are followed up in the right way and to ensure that everyone including parents/carers, staff, volunteers and young people know what should happen and what is expected of them. Our policy applies to all staff and volunteers working in the groups units. There are five main elements to our policy:

- Ensuring we practice safer recruitment in checking the suitability of our staff and volunteers.
- Raising awareness of Safeguarding Children issues.
- Developing and implementing procedures for identifying and reporting cases, or suspected cases, of abuse.
- Supporting our vulnerable young people who may have been subjected to abuse in accordance with their Individual Care Plan.
- Establishing a safe environment in which young people can learn and develop. No form of bullying nor intimidation is tolerated anywhere within Appletree Bungalow, irrespective of who the victim or perpetrator may be. The overall philosophy on these issues is set out in the company's comprehensive behaviour policy. This covers all forms of bullying and intimidation in all circumstances and applies equally to young people, staff and visitors. It is based on the philosophy that Appletree Bungalow follows the Child protection and adults at risk procedure (OP05 Child Protection and Adults at Risk Safeguarding Policy) in line with The Local Safeguarding Board. The local procedure is framed in the context of the Company's overall policy and procedure. Full training in the appropriate procedures is provided as part of the induction process for each new member of staff and reinforced in periodic refresher training and through supervision.

It is the philosophy of the group that the overriding principle to be followed is: the young person's welfare is paramount and this takes precedence over doubt. This means that all allegations made by children, young people or adults will be taken seriously and investigated fully. This helps the organisation to protect those that use our services and also the staff and volunteers that work with us. However, Appletree Bungalow does recognise that when an allegation is made this is a very difficult situation and it will endeavour to ensure that staff are fully supported throughout the process. (OPED 59 Managing Allegations Policy).

The home operates to a missing person policy agreed with the local police. A full record is made of the circumstances. Parents and referring agencies will be kept fully informed and consulted as necessary. We use the Lincolnshire Police protocol in situations where young people may have gone missing from the home.

Views, wishes and feelings

A description of the young person's home's policy and approach to consulting young people about the quality of their care.

Consultation takes place most effectively by tailoring questions at a level appropriate to the individuals' understanding. In this way young people are able to comment on the operation of the service and their likes and dislikes. A 'young persons' view' format enables them to answer basic questions with the help of rebus signs.

Young people are able to consult with staff at any time if they have an issue to discuss. Each young person is allocated a keyworker and co-worker with whom they can communicate using a variety of skills and tools. The keyworker will relay any issues to the appropriate person themselves or on behalf of the young person they are advocating for.

At the point of a formal review young people are consulted about the service that is provided to them, this is done through consultation using a young person's views, this is a standardised format that is adapted to the young people's level of understanding. The form is designed through 'Communicate in print' and is presented in a symbolised format. The keyworker or senior member of the team will also use picture symbols as a visual prompt for the young person.

Formal reviews may include Education and Healthcare Plan (EHC, Children and Families Act 2014) or a Looked After Children Review (Children's' Act 2004.) We also have Child in Need meetings and transitions meetings. We are clear that in all recording and planning with young people their voice is central to the planning. The home is supported by the advocacy service; Voiceability who visit the home on a regular basis to engage with all the young people within the home. As and when appropriate young people are supported to attend their reviews and supported by the team to express their own wishes and feelings in respect of the placement and the plans going forward.

There are some young people that may be referred to the service that are not a looked after child and transition to the service on a section 17. Where this occurs, we ensure that the young person has an annual EHC review and a 6 monthly internal review which key people are invited to especially where the young person does not have a social worker or child in need reviews. If there are any concerns in relation to the young person that could be deemed a safeguarding referral the service would follow the safeguarding policy and refer this through to the placing authority as well as LADO.

- 8. A description of the young person's home's policy and approach to in relation to:
- (a) anti-discriminatory practice in respect of young people and their families
- (b) young person's rights Irrespective of background or religion:

Irrespective of background or religion, Appletree Bungalow strive to meet individual needs. The rights of all young people are respected and promoted as a basic principle of Appletree Bungalow and the company, which states that every young person is valued for themselves as an individual, irrespective of any aspect of their background, or any other personal or cultural characteristic. This idea of positive regard for others, in an atmosphere of high, but realistic expectations, is promoted throughout the community as a desirable value and discussions concerning any breach of this standard are taken very seriously by all.

Appletree Bungalow actively promotes equality and diversity in all that it does, it is the underpinning view that each young person placed here will be treated with dignity and respect; they will have access to a broad and balanced curriculum, with support from an experienced staff team. Young people will be given opportunities to access the wider community and to be assisted to learn and progress in an environment that nurtures and encourages participation. Appletree Bungalow subscribes to and actively encourages the implementation of the Equality Act 2010, Human Rights Act 2000, the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 and Mental Capacity Act 2005. All young people with learning disabilities have the same intrinsic values as anyone else and they therefore share the same rights and responsibilities.

Appletree Bungalow:

Celebrates the richness and diversity of childhood, including the different strengths deriving from ability, age, culture, ethnicity and gender;

Actively promotes young peoples' welfare and development, protecting them from physical and emotional harm, deprivation or disadvantage;

Implements policies, procedures and practice which support cultural and physical diversity.

Involving young people in decision-making is an essential part of our work. It is important that young people are given choices and that their wishes and views are actively sought and acted upon.

The young people are always encouraged to express their wishes and views individually and are given the right support, by both their immediate support staff and an independent advocate.

The Regulation 44 and 45 processes also give the young people opportunity to engage in consultation. In particular, the independent Regulation 44 process ensures that the views of young people are sought during the unannounced visit. Young people have a contact number for the independent inspector so that independent consultation can happen when and if a young person requires it.

All young people are encouraged to be involved and contribute to their statutory reviews which are held every 6 months for those under the age of 18 and annually for those over 18. This is an essential review meeting that empowers young people to feedback about their experiences, achievements and progress and expresses their wishes, views and feelings and have these recorded. Individual rights are very important to us and we ensure that our approach to supporting our young people is balanced between individual rights, risks and needs.

Our policy and approach in relation to – anti-discriminatory practice in respect of children and their families.
 children's rights (Schedule 1.9)

Anti-discriminatory practice in respect of children and their families

It is the aim of Kisimul Group to recruit staff from a range of ethnicity that reflects the nature of the client group referred as well as their families and general society, wherever possible to offer the most positive of role models to young people. We work to achieve positive, understanding and trusting relationships with families to support them to regain positive relationships with their children.

We ensure families are aware that we understand the challenges they face with children who have complex and problematic behaviours and support them through the process of dealing with loss where their child is unable to live at home anymore.

Resources at the Home are carefully chosen in order that any images are representative of a diverse culture. Specialist resources (such as bi-lingual materials) can be purchased when necessary to cater for the needs of individuals.

Young people are encouraged to accept the diversity of groups and individuals. There are a variety of resources that can be accessed during educational and recreational times. Staff and Young People are encouraged to appropriately challenge one another if a group or individual show evidence of discrimination.

For more serious matters the home has a complaints procedure that can be followed, and staff are instructed to offer support with this process as and when required.

On admission to Appletree Bungalow young people and their families are consulted regarding their dietary needs and their religious practices. The home will support the young people to meet these individual needs.

We aim to create opportunities for young people to achieve positive outcomes, to grow at a rate commensurate with their diagnosis and abilities through the provision of support and services that are timely, well planned and considered.

Everyone has the right to try and/or experience all aspects of life open to young people in preparation for adulthood. They have a right of access to health care; stay safe in their living environment, community and in all activities in which they engage; enjoy and can achieve in; be provided with activities that promote growth and the development of self-esteem and confidence; contribute to their own lives and their daily living whilst gaining life experience from these activities; make choices, plan, develop their level of independence and be financially secure.

All possible steps are taken to ensure that each has access to the support they require to achieve an equal opportunity in all aspects of their lives are monitored and reviewed to ensure that these are appropriate and successful. It is our aim to lessen the impact of the diagnosis they have and to afford young people opportunities to experience life to the full, limited only by their level of understanding, level of functioning anxiety and ability.

The Kisimul Group will ensure that personal rights are not restricted under the Equality Act 2010 and are prepared to raise issues that prevent access to the community and services by young people because of their learning disability.

Young People's Rights

We fully support the principles and Articles of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. The Children's Rights Service affirms Article 12 which states that, "State Parties shall assure to the child who is capable of forming his or her own views the right to express those views freely in all matters affecting the child, the views of the child being given due weight in accordance with the age and maturity of the child."

We create opportunities for young people to express their views and feelings in ways that are supportive, because of their learning disability and respond positively to these where it is appropriate to do so based upon their needs and understanding.

We ensure that young people irrespective of their abilities can participate in their care.

We work to ensure that young people are not discriminated against based on their age, ethnic origin, and colour of skin, class, disability, sex, sexuality, care status and religious persuasion.

We provide a high-quality service that is based upon their individual needs, in a respectful manner which provides security of placement, unconditional positive regard irrespective of the behaviours associated with their diagnosis, or those learned as part of their development.

We believe that safeguarding of the young people is crucial in enabling individual development in a positive environment.

We celebrate the richness and diversity of childhood, including the different strengths deriving from ability, age, culture, ethnicity, and gender.

We actively promote young peoples' welfare and development, protecting them from physical and emotional harm, deprivation, or disadvantage.

We implement policies, procedures and practice which support cultural and physical diversity.

There may be some occasions where the wishes, views, and rights of the young person in relation to decision-making may conflict with what is in their best interests. On these rare occasions we will work closely with the young person involved and key stakeholders, such as parents, carers, social workers and independent advocacy services, to ensure that all decision making is transparent, documented and that the young person understands the reasons behind any decisions made as far as this is possible for them; and that all such decisions are made collaboratively, through full multi-party discussion, keeping the young person at the centre of this process.

10. Details of provision to support Children and Young People with special educational needs. (schedule 1.10)

Young people who transition to Appletree Bungalow, undertake an individual programme of full—time education tailored to their specific needs and where possible, attend Kisimul School which shares the site. A thorough pre-assessment process is undertaken so that there is sufficient information and knowledge of the young persons' profile and associated challenges prior to starting in the school. The school has modern and well-equipped classrooms with no more than five young people placed to a class. These are arranged by learning dynamics and compatibility, and there is no ability streaming given that learning is individualised and tailored for each young person. Classes are staffed on a very high ratio basis in reflection of the complex needs of the young person, and provision is supported by the young person's Education Health and Care Plan.

There are extensive educational resources which support the curriculum offer, including a library, Food Technology, theatre, occupation therapy suite, music room, and an interactive learning classroom environment, including immersive technology. The school has interactive white boards in all classrooms; each classroom also has iPads and augmentative communication tools in place to meet the needs of the young person.

Within the school provision there is animal husbandry, this is situated at Acacia Hall upper school and is also used extensively as part of the Key Stage 5 curriculum as well as providing the opportunity for other pupils to access as needed. Individual or group sessions can have a sensory or vocational focus, and group participation encourages co-operation and development of social interaction and engagement. This is also underpinned by formal accreditation in animal care and associated vocational skills.

Enjoyment and achievement

13 The arrangements for enabling young people to take part in and benefit from a variety of activities that meet their needs and develop and reflect their creative, intellectual, physical and social interests and skills.

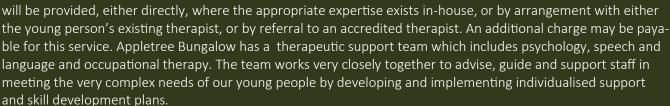

We believe that leisure activities are an opportunity to gain in all aspects of a young person's life, including self-esteem, skill acquisition, lifelong learning, improved mobility, healthy living, attention, and concentration spans, and for pure enjoyment and achievement.

Appletree Bungalow provides a full range of leisure, sporting and recreational activities, there is an outdoor play area, swimming pool and sports hall on the main site. We have a detailed and structured approach to the ongoing professional and personal development of our staff at Kisimul. The fundamental needs of the organisation are met through the delivery of an annual training plan which incorporates initial and refresher training. Further development opportunities are assessed on an individual basis against a competency-based framework. This results in an individual development plan which works to agreed aims and objectives. We aim to provide a range of activities and services to meet the identified learning outcomes and ensure that development plans are tailored to the needs of the individual whilst supporting the requirements of the organisation. This allows us to both support and grow our existing talent pool and encourage continual professional development of our staff.

There are a number of internal and arm's length quality audits which are completed by a range of managers and others to ensure that quality systems are robust and can be relied upon to support the developments at Appletree Bungalow;

- Regulation 45 Audit
- Monthly Manager Reports
- Monthly Regulation 44 Visits
- Quality Audits (Covering a variety of systems within the home)
- Health & Safety Reports

The effectiveness of our approach is also measured in the different multi agency forums that we participate in. For example, we provide reports for reviews of Individual Educational Plans, statements of special educational need and LAC reviews.

Young people have an annual health assessment which takes into account all aspects of the young person's medical needs. Each young person is registered with a GP and has regular dental and optical check-ups, as required, arranged in consultation with parents and referring agents. Arrangements are made as necessary for those receiving specialist medical care to pursue their course of treatment. Consent is obtained from parents / guardians for all medical treatment including first aid.

Young people have an annual health assessment if required under the accommodation of placement. Each young person will be registered at a GP this will be either locally or remain with the family GP. In partnership with parents the home will register YP if requested at local opticians and dental services and maintain regular appointments. Arrangements are made as necessary for those receiving specialist medical care and pursue their course of treatment. Consent is obtained from parents/guardians for all medical treatment including first aid.

Positive relationships

14. The arrangements for promoting contact between young people and their family and friends

Dependent upon the detailed provisions contained in the placement agreement agreed with the referring Education or Social Services Authority, visits by relatives and visits home are encouraged, as is regular contact by telephone, letter and e-mail. Young people have access to telephones to make private calls. In addition, staff are readily available to family members for discussion and support, as necessary, on request.

The Key Worker

The young people have a dedicated key worker, who provides an essential link with families. The key worker monitors progress and works closely with the young people, multi-disciplinary teams and family on setting goals and developing appropriate support plans. Key workers co-ordinate regular telephone links and ensures that information is exchanged effectively and any questions answered. The success of this role depends on the two-way nature of trust and openness between families and key workers.

Telephone Contact

Young people are free to ring home, but generally it is families who contact the young people. Telephone calls can be arranged at regular times and particular days which fit into family routines and staff are always available for families to speak to about their relative, at any time of day or night.

Home Visits

Where possible we promote and encourage parents to spend time with their son / daughter either on site or at their home. The home provides additional resources to facilitate this, however, it must be noted that the home is not in a position to provide transport or staff support during home visits.

Online Links

The service can facilitate online links between families and young people such as e-mail and Skype.

Protection of young people

15. A description of the home's approach to the monitoring and surveillance of young people.

Requirements for the use of electronic surveillance are:

- 1. The young person's placing authority consents to the use of the measures in question
- 2. It is provided for in the young person's placement plan
- 3. So far as is practicable the young person is informed in advance of the intention to use such measures
- 4. The measure is no more restrictive than necessary, having regard for the young person's privacy

Appletree Bungalow recognises their duty of care towards the young people in residence within its accommodation provision. Consideration has been given towards the individual's health needs and behaviours that a young person could exhibit that may put both him at risk and others within the accommodation.

To provide a safe level of supervision throughout the night it may be necessary to provide an electronic door alarm system / beam alerting staff to the movement of the young person, i.e. leaving their bedroom(s), and or final exit doors from the building.

For properties where such systems are in use;

- The young person's placing authority shall be informed and consent obtained.
- The measure shall be identified and recorded in the young person's Individual care plan.
- The young person shall be informed or their parents/advocates of the measure and explained why it is in place and its purpose.

- 16. Details of the young person's homes approach to behavioural support, including information about
- (a) the home's approach to restraint in relation to young people; and
- (b) how persons working in the home are trained in restraint and how their competence is assessed.

Every young person is entitled to develop in an environment which is conducive to learning both in the academic and life skill sense. This environment should be safe, caring, enjoyable and one in which the young person can grow towards independence.

This philosophy is realised by relating to the young person in a positive way and by meeting all aspects of the young person's needs through integration of school, home, leisure activities and involvement in the wider community.

The first step to understanding young people with SLD and autism is to have an awareness of the terms used to describe the condition and how educational, social and emotional needs are affected. Research suggests autism is a lifelong developmental disorder that affects the way a person communicates and relates to the people around them.

Appletree Bungalow operates to a clear code of behaviour support as part of an overall structure designed to promote a caring atmosphere (a copy of the behaviour support policy is available to all individuals). Staff are trained in Meas. This training emphasises the importance of understanding the needs of the people we support, and the use of primary, secondary and tertiary strategies. The emphasis is on de-escalation techniques, proactive approaches and finding the least restrictive means of intervention to support behaviour; avoiding the use of physical intervention if at all possible. Meas is fully consistent with company policy in this area. Staff members' competence in physical intervention is assessed by Meas trainers who are experienced members of staff at Kisimul and who have completed the Meas Train the Trainer course. Meas is Kisimul's own training programme. The Meas project group has been accreditation with the Restraint Reduction Network Standards 2019, as assessed by BILD (British Institute of Learning Disabilities). Positive reinforcement and specific praise are significant behavioural tools at the Appletree Bungalow. There are clear procedures for dealing with disruptive behaviour and a range of appropriate and proportionate sanctions are available and fairly applied. All staff are aware of the company's policy and procedures for dealing with behaviours that challenge and operate principles based on knowledge of issues that may trigger episodes of behaviours that challenge in individuals, preventing and minimising the conditions for escalation. As a last resort, physical intervention can be used if necessary to prevent injury to self, others or serious damage to property.

The threshold for using physical intervention is met when, as a last resort a young person is going to put themselves or others at risk of serious harm or they are going to cause significant damage to property. We recognise that whilst positive behaviour support techniques are effective for most young people most of the time, physical intervention can be an act of care if it is used in the right way at the right times.

All staff are trained in understanding the needs of our young people and putting this into practice when it comes to supporting positive behaviour. We have an acceptance and understanding that our young people will struggle to cope emotionally and socially from time to time and our autism specific positive behaviour support techniques help young people to self-regulate with support from carers.

Appletree Bungalow has a comprehensive staff training programme and there is an emphasis of providing excellent training for all the staff teams. There is a system in place which provides training facilities to ensure that there is a large qualified staff base. As part of this we are able to ensure that unqualified staff are given training and support to enable them to gain appropriate and recognised qualifications within allocated timescales.

The home is staffed with waking staff 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, with the number of staff appropriate to the needs of the young people and/or individual contracts with placing authorities. This is as a result of assessment of the young person and in-depth paperwork supplied as well as the requirements outlined in the Statement of Special Educational Needs. The Home is supported by full domestic and maintenance teams.

The care service delivery is enhanced by allocating experienced staff across all teams and by endeavouring to deploy young and more mature as well as male and female staff equally to ensure appropriate role models for the young people. A key worker system is in place to enable young people access to people who they can particularly confide in and who can advocate their needs within the home.

On completion of the six-week induction programme and once completed work booklets have been completed in knowledge base and safeguarding, care staff are enrolled and receive training for the Level 3 Diploma for Children and Young People's Workforce in Health & Social Care, with completion required within two years of employment start date. When staff, are recruited to Appletree Bungalow, they receive an induction pack and undergo an induction programme to raise awareness of autism. Existing staff have undergone professional development in a range of autism specific areas. Both are freely available for consultation. There is also a well-resourced library of materials and periodicals which is updated on a regular basis.

All staff undertake a training and development programme appropriate to their roles and responsibilities. They also undergo professional development and review scheme annually, when development needs in relation to autism can be identified and addressed. Funding is available to support training in more specialised areas such as TEACCH (Treatment and education of Autistic and Communication Handicapped Children) and PECS (Picture Exchange Communication System) as well as post graduate study. Training and workshops can be provided in-house by the educational psychology, SALT, OT and the QA/Accreditation manager.

In line with Quality Standards all Life practitioners receive training in Children & Young People's Workforce Diploma this is a recognised and accredited qualification completed at level 3 status.
